The Roman Emperor decided a city was needed in a certain place. This book shows how it was built, illustration by illustration, with explanations of what is happening. From the laying out of the streets, the assembly of aqueducts for water, the cloaca/sewers, the baths and the buildings/apartments where the people lived, all is carefully laid out and carefully pictured.

This is a list of cities and towns founded by the Romans. It lists every city established and built by the ancient Romans to have begun as a colony, often for the settlement of citizens or veterans of the legions. Many Roman colonies rose to become important commercial and cultural centers, transportation hubs and capitals of global empires.

During the late Republic and all the Roman Empire, Taranto was a simple provincial city (Prefecture of Italy, Diocese of Italia suburbicaria, Apulia et Calabria province). Emperor Trajanus tried to counter the reduction of the population giving the Tarentine lands to his veterans, but this initiative failed.
