Few countries have been transformed as rapidly and dramatically as Russia since the end of the Communist regime. Yet the more that certain things change in Russia, the more others remain the same. The result is a political and social system of which almost every aspect is a work in progress, marked by sudden accelerations, slowdowns, turnarounds, and conundrums. This lively and innovative third edition provides a clear and comprehensive picture of Russian politics which does full justice to its changes, challenges, and paradoxes. A distinctive feature throughout is its emphasis on outlining basic facts and developments and setting these in historical contexts before moving on to critical analysis. This is the ideal text for upper-level undergraduate and postgraduate students studying Russian politics or comparative government and politics more broadly. New to this Edition: - Fully updated to cover the latest developments, including 2018's presidential election - Two chapters offering expanded coverage of foreign policy, which better balances coverage of domestic and international affairs - New content on elections, presidential power, constitutional amendments, events in Ukraine, political opposition, economic and business policies, domestic and global challenges facing Russia, and Russia's vision of the world - Accompanied by a revamped set of online resources, such as multiple-choice questions and PowerPoint slides

With three months remaining of her marriage of convenience, Savannah is ready to say goodbye to her spoiled rich boy of a husband. He's annoying and argumentative and used to always getting his way. Sure, he's hot. And maybe occasionally a little bit sweet. But she doesn't want to stay married to him. Not at all. He needed a wife for a year so he could inherit his grandmother's fortune, and she needed to pay off her family's debts. That's all their marriage has ever been about. So she really needs to stop falling into bed with him.

For centuries men have pondered the question "why am I here." What is the purpose or meaning of life? Is there a God, or is He a thought and creation of mere men? If there is a God, who is He? How can I know for certain? How can I know Him? What does He require of me? What is my relationship to Him? Question after question after question. Man has always sought something to believe in that is greater than himself. "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God" (Ps.14:1a). Once man came to the realization that there is something greater than himself, he has "pushed the envelope" ever since. He has devised system after system to try to explain his existence. These constructions range from the "Big Bang Theory" with its evolutionary model steeped in science to out and out creations of deities to worship. Embedded in each of these creations is the idea that one must be reconciled to our original maker. These creations of deities necessitated the creation of a standard or standards by which man would be governed, judged and held account- able by such. Rising from these standards are various ideas of deity appeasement or in the case of Christianity, Salvation.
